Dear Chairman Smith, Ranking Member Rogers, Chairwoman Speier, and Ranking Member Banks:

The Military Coalition (TMC), representing more than 5.5 million current and former service members, veterans, and their families and survivors, is writing in support of the bipartisan and bicameral Military Hunger Prevention Act and urges Congress to prioritize the bill's inclusion within the FY22 National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA).

Hunger within the military community is not a new or isolated problem. Due to the inclusion of basic allowance for housing (BAH) in determining income eligibility for the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), struggling military families continue to visit food pantries and distribution sites on or around every military installation to make ends meet. Studies conducted before the COVID-19 pandemic show that 1 in 8 military family respondents were food insecure.<sup>1</sup> However, that number has likely grown as the pandemic has exacerbated factors contributing to food insecurity such as access to affordable child care and soaring unemployment rates among military spouses.<sup>2</sup>

The Military Hunger Prevention Act provides a targeted approach to addressing food insecurity among military families whose household income falls within a band of the calculated poverty line. Semi-annual notification of eligibility for the military family Basic Needs Allowance (BNA) removes the stigma junior military families face when asking for help. The 13th Quadrennial Review of Military Compensation (QRMC) reviewed the need for a BNA, but only considered military families who utilize SNAP – thus neglecting the Congressional Budget Office's estimation of 10,000 military families who would benefit from the BNA. Although the QRMC noted that many young service members promote out of food insecurity quickly, it did not address the physical and mental developmental challenges associated with food insecurity for military children. A systemic correction to military compensation is warranted for these young military families.

Ensuring military families can put food on the table contributes to mission readiness, encourages retention, and contributes to the fitness and wellbeing of the future force. We appreciate your continued support of our nation's service members and families and standby ready to work with you on this important matter.

Sincerely,

Jack Du Teil
President,
The Military Coalition
