

TARGET AUDIENCE: PREVIOUSLY DENIED SURVIVOR CLAIMANTS (WITH NO EP-335 PENDING)

You May Qualify for Dependency and Indemnity Compensation (DIC) Benefits

Dear [Survivor Name],

Due to a recent law change, you may be eligible for VA benefits.

Why We Are Contacting You

The new law (Public Law 116-23¹, Blue Water Navy Vietnam Veterans Act of 2019):

- extends presumption of herbicide exposure to service within the offshore waters of the Republic of Vietnam, and
- provides a potential earlier effective date for DIC claims that were previously denied.

How This May Affect You

You were previously denied DIC benefits that were related to the Veteran's exposure to herbicides, and you may now be eligible. You may also be eligible for a potential retroactive effective date, if VA grants service-connected benefits under the new law, for benefits you previously claimed on or after September 25, 1985, and before January 1, 2020, that were subsequently denied.

VA is currently processing claims and will decide these claims based on the date of the new law. This means eligible survivors will be awarded benefits as early as January 1, 2020.

Eligibility Criteria

You may apply for benefits if you believe the following criteria are met:

1. The Veteran served aboard a US Navy or Coast Guard ship on the offshore "blue waters" of the Republic of Vietnam between January 9, 1962, and May 7, 1975, VA will presume herbicide exposure if the Veteran's service included:
 - Duty or visitation within the Republic of Vietnam itself, or
 - Travel on a vessel in the inland waterways of the Republic of Vietnam, or
 - Travel on a vessel within the eligible offshore waters as listed in P.L. 116-23
2. You provide medical evidence showing that the principal or contributory cause of the Veteran's death is, or is secondary to, one or more of the conditions listed in 38 C.F.R § 3.309(e) and listed below:
